Rural Trauma Team Dev. CourseDr. Fallat

Discussion:

This course has been developed by the American College of Surgeons and their Rural Trauma Subcommittee. It is meant to be a one day course for rural hospital providers and is a series of lectures regarding how to stabilize a trauma patient prior to transport to a higher level Trauma Center. This course is a byproduct of ATLS (Advanced Trauma Life Support) aimed at all hospital personnel. Three people from KBEMS who have attended: Dr. Fallat, Dr. Bentley, and Tom Taylor.

Conclusions:

The subcommittee should review the course for possible implementation.

Action items:

1. Print two-five copies of the course manual for review by the subcommittee.

Pediatric Web Based TrainingT. Taylor

Discussion:

This is an ongoing project to develop web based training for paramedics, EMT's, nurses, and physicians dealing with treatment of the pediatric community after an NBC (Nuclear, Chemical, Biological) event. Our current course is now online and has been well received. It is an "awareness" level course. Our next offering will be a more in depth course designed for ALS providers.

Conclusions:

Continue with efforts to create this course.

Methamphetamine ProtocolT. Taylor / Dr. Pollack

Discussion:

The Drug Endangered Children Project has requested the medical protocol. This protocol was presented to the subcommittee for advisement.

Conclusions:

Action items:

Person responsible:

Deadline:

1. Continue to revise and edit the protocol to the satisfaction of as many agencies as possible, remembering that this is an EMS issue.

Regional VS. State wide EMSC ConferencesT. Taylor

Discussion:

The budget for next year includes funding for a statewide EMS training conference. After consulting with providers in the established EMS regions it has become evident that the providers would prefer regional conferences rather than statewide. The format will be the same as used by the Fire Schools.

Conclusions:

We should follow our normal procedures in getting meeting space in the regions. Input from the provider is essential but should not be the overriding factor in deciding where these meetings shall occur. Partnerships with providers such as air medical services are acceptable to the subcommittee. However all of the air medical services in the region should have the opportunity to participate.

Action items:

Person responsible:

Deadline:

1. Continue to plan our first regional symposium with region two and keep the subcommittee advised on progress.

Budgetary MattersDr. Fallat

Discussion:

- Carryover this budget year will be approximately $16,600.
- Our plan is to divide this sum between our next phase of web based training and the School Nurse Emergency Care Course. The remainder of the costs for these two projects will come from our 2005-2006 budget.
- Web Based Training cost: $30,000 over two years.
- School Nurse Emergency Care Course cost: $13,617.00

Conclusions:

Action items:

Person responsible:

Deadline:

1. Complete a Carryover Request to reflect the above and send to Mickey Reynolds.
